There are two ways to find us:

By Taxi

- You can get a taxi right outside the arrival terminals. It is about 30km from the airport to ISSI BJ or NSSC. The fare is about 100RMB. Make sure you take an official taxi, as many non-official taxi drivers will approach you while waiting in line and then charge much more than the average.
- Please print out these directions in Chinese and give it to your driver:

Turn right on West Wudaokou and walk for about 10 minutes, finding NSSC on the left. The center is easy to find thanks to the nearby National Microgravity Laboratory tower.

Chinese: 北京市海淀区知春路 25 号 电话号 +86 10-8235-6699

丽亭华苑酒店
北京市海淀区知春路 25 号
电话号 +86 10-8235-6699

- The trip should cost between 100-130 RMB and take 35-45 minutes with no traffic, but in extreme cases may take much longer
- Signs to get to the taxi line are easy to follow, and usually the taxi line goes faster than you think (usually a 5-15 minutes wait). Some people may propose you the taxi outside of this line. They are not official taxis, they will charge 300-700 RMB and you will not receive a receipt.

By Subway: Zhichunlu station (知春路站)

- If you arrive during rush hours and have little luggage, you may consider the subway. Follow the airport directions to the Airport Express, which is part of the Beijing subway system.
- Change at SANYUANQIAO station, then go west on line 10 to ZHICHUNLU (知春路) subway station.
- Total travel time is roughly 45 minutes and costs 29 RMB (25 RMB for the airport line, 4 RMB for the rest of the network).
- Note: There is similarly named stop right after Zhichunlu, which is Zhihchunli. Please do not confuse them - make sure to get off at the first one (Zhichunlu)! Also, Line 10 can be a bit crowded.
- Leave the Zhichunlu station by Exit F2 (see map below). The hotel is in a very convenient location, about a three-minute walk from the station. The street goes underneath a train/subway bridge. Walk East, *away* from that bridge
